

RoHS Compliance Statement

May 7, 2009

European Union Directive (2002/95/EC), better known as The Restriction of Hazardous Substances (RoHS), affects manufacturers, sellers and distributors of electrical and electronic equipment and components. Its goal is to protect the environment and human health through the restriction of certain hazardous substances. In particular:

- Lead, including, lead/tin solder
- Mercury
- Cadmium
- Hexavalent chromium
- Polybrominated biphenyls (PBBs) and
- Polybrominated diphenyl ethers (PBDEs)

To the best of our knowledge, none of Cool Polymers' raw material suppliers use these materials in the manufacture of their products.

CoolPoly® Materials:

CoolPoly thermally conductive plastics listed in the following table, comply with Directive 2002/95/EC with respect to the Restriction of Hazardous Substances (RoHS).

Additional Regulatory Compliance

EU The substances in this preparation have been checked against the European Inventory of Existing Commercial Chemical Substances (EINECS), the European List of Notified Chemical Substances (ELINCS), and the no Longer Polymer (NLP) list. Substances not identified on these inventories are exempt. Canada All components of CoolPoly products are on the Domestic Substances List. Japan All components of CoolPoly products are included on the Japanese (ENCS) Inventory or are not required to be listed. Australia All the components of CoolPoly products are listed on the Australian Inventory of Chemical Substances (AICS). China All the components of CoolPoly products are listed on the draft Inventory of Existing Chemical Substances in China. Korea All the components of CoolPoly products are on the Existing Chemicals List (ECL) in Korea. CoolPoly products do not contain any new chemicals, toxic chemicals, restricted or prohibited chemicals regulated under the Toxic Chemicals Control Law. Philippines All the components of CoolPoly Products are listed on the Philippine Inventory of Chemicals and Chemical Substances (PICCS). United States All of the components of CoolPoly products are on the Toxic Substances Control Act (TSCA) Chemical Inventory. CoolPoly products do not contain any Bis(2-ethylhexyl)phthalate, commonly abbreviated DEHP.
